Welcome Note

Dear Colleague

It is with great pleasure that we present further information on the programme for SIPI I. LO-Skolen can house more people than the number who have actually expressed their interest. We are therefore happy to announce that all of you, who have responded to the first announcement, can participate.

If you want to present an oral presentation or a poster, you should submit an abstract of your contribution before April 23 together with the registration form.

All sessions at the meeting will be plenary. An invited keynote speaker will open each session. Other participants will then have opportunities to give oral presentations. The delegates are asked to keep their contributions short and concise (10 minutes + 5 minutes for discussion). In a few cases, it may not be possible to present the results in such a limited period of time and we will offer additional time (15 minutes + 5 minutes for discussion) in these cases.

However, the number of oral presentations will probably be lower than the number of people wanting to give them. Accordingly you may find that you are asked to present your work as a poster rather than a talk. Both will be treated equally valuable, and there will be sufficient time devoted to poster sessions. You will be notified whether you are going to give a talk (15 or 20 minutes) or present a poster by May 10, 2001.

Jens Kvist Nielsen, Christian Kjær and Niels Agerbirk

Guidelines for submission of Abstracts

Participants are invited to submit abstracts for oral or poster presentation. Please submit two camera ready, laser printed copies of your abstract together with an electronic version saved as an ASCII file (text file) or a MS-word or WordPerfect file. You may also submit the electronic version as an attachment to an email to the conference secretariat (sip11@discongress.com). Do not fax your abstract. If submitting abstracts by regular mail please send it to: DIS Congress Service Copenhagen A/S, Herlev Ringvej 2C, DK-2730 Herlev, Denmark.

Deadline for submission of abstracts is April 23, 2001

You will be notified whether you are going to give a talk or present a poster by May 10, 2001.

Layout of Abstracts

When printed, the abstract should fit within a frame 12 cm long and 16 cm wide. The layout of your abstract should be as follows:

- TITLE in capital letters at the top of the page
- Author/s (First name and/or initials followed by surname). The name of the person giving the presentation should be mentioned first and underlined
- Addresses (Institution, Department, Country)
- Text with paragraphs indented, omitting credits and grant support
- Font 12 point Times New Roman, and the text should be single-spaced. Use italics for Latin names of species.

Poster and Oral Presentations

Please indicate together with the abstract the session to which your contribution belongs. You should also indicate whether you prefer to present:

- Oral presentation 15 minutes long (including 5 minutes for discussion)
- Oral presentation 20 minutes long (including 5 minutes for discussion)
- Poster presentation; posters should be prepared to occupy a space not exceeding 80 by 118 cm.

Proceedings

Kluwer Academic Publishers and the editorial board of Entomologia Experimentalis et Applicata have agreed to publish a selection of papers from the symposium both as a hardback volume and also as a special edition of the journal. The papers to be included will be subjected to the full rigour of the journal's normal reviewing procedures and should be of a standard, which would warrant submission to the journal under normal conditions. Invited keynote speakers will be allocated a maximum of 10 journal pages, including figures, tables and references (approximately 6000 words). Presenters of short oral communications and posters are invited to submit manuscripts not exceeding 7 printed pages (approx. 4000 words) or short communications (less than 3 printed pages). Preparation of manuscripts should follow the conventions of Entomologia as set out in the instructions to authors given in Vol. 90, no. 1.

It is envisaged that 30-40 papers will be published from among the oral communications and poster presentations. This represents a continuation of the trend that was began with SIP9, but is a departure from the usual conference proceedings volume, which has become somewhat devalued among the scientific community, publishers and journal editors alike. It is in the best interests of the meeting and the journal that the standard of the published symposium volume be high. It is also important that the meeting provides a forum for airing new and as yet only partly substantiated ideas. A full list of participant's names, addresses and titles of talks and posters presented will also be included. The booklet of abstracts will provide a record of all contributions made at the meeting.

Papers for possible inclusion in the proceedings volume must be submitted by 1 pm Monday August 6 to a member of the staff at the registration desk at LO-skolen.

Social Events

Tuesday, August 7 – Sweden: Plant breeding at “Svalöf Weibull AB”, and the cathedral in Lund

From Elsinore we cross the narrow strip of sea to reach Scania, the southern part of Sweden. A half-hour bus drive takes us to Svalöf Weibull AB, where we will learn about the company's plant breeding activities. We will see the breeding procedure of one of the crops, biomass willow, during a field tour. Laboratory tests for diseases and insects and application of molecular markers in resistance breeding will also be presented. We continue to Lund, a city with more than a thousand years of history. The historical buildings tell the story of daily life in southern Sweden from the Middle Ages to the present day. We visit the cathedral, situated in the heart of the city. It was inaugurated in 1145 and is Scandinavia's foremost example of Romanesque architecture. From here the bus takes you back to Elsinore.

Price: DKK 350 per person.

Tuesday, August 7 – Royal Deer Park and Karens Blixens house

A 45 minutes drive southwards takes us to the Royal Deer Park, which was established in 1669. This unique mixture of grassland and old oaks and beeches holds a high diversity of insects and birds, in addition to a large population of deer. A two-hour guided tour by the Park-rangers will take us close to the deer, and show how the Park is managed to conserve the entire wildlife. On our way back we visit Karen Blixens house (Danish author, 1885-1962, perhaps known from the film “Out of Africa”). The house has been kept as it was when Blixen lived there upon her stay in Africa, and gives a very interesting glimpse into Blixens' life.

Price: DKK 330 per person

Tuesday, August 7 – Kronborg

On your own you can experience the fortress and renaissance castle Kronborg, which is situated a few km from the conference centre. Please visit Kronborgs website www.kronborgcastle.dk, to learn more about this unique and beautifully situated castle. Entrance to the castle is DKK 40. Bus schedule will be provided.

All tours will be operated in English.

During transportation participants are insured according to Danish Legislation regarding Transportation Insurance, but should otherwise be covered by their personal travel and health insurance when not on the bus.
